ARMY BILL APPROVED.

THE JUDICIAL BILL VETOED.

A Resolution for Adjournment Wednesday.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Republican Senators express surprise that the army bill was signed. They felt certain that the measure would not receive the President's approval. The President has taken the same view of the bill that the Republicans of the House did; that the bill does not restrict the President's powers, and does not prevent him from using the troops on election days as soldiers, if the occasion requires.

The Senate committee on appropriations today reported a resolution providing for a final adjournment on Wednesday. This means an extra session.

A DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS.

The Democratic Senators held a three hours caucus over the situation as it appeared after the President's veto of the judicial bill. It was finally decided that the best thing for the party would be to pass immediately the appropriation bill free from that provision in respect to deputy marshals to which the President had objected. It was also decided that this ought to be done without adjourning the present session and waiting for the President to call a second extra session. The men who opposed this proposition were for the most part of little note.

It was also agreed to refer the whole subject to a joint committee of conference, the Senate branch of the conference being instructed to carry out the views of the majority. There will be a meeting of this committee tomorrow. It is hinted that the House branch of it is strongly opposed to the position taken by the Senate, and it is well known that the sentiment expressed upon the floor and among the Democrats, after the reading of the message, was most pronounced in opposition to any yielding whatever.

THE JUDICIAL BILL.

Veto by the President.—Its Reception in the House.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The Speaker submitted the veto message on the judicial bill to the House at 1.20, immediately after the morning hour. Two of the sons of the President were in the gallery pending the reading.

The Representatives of both parties listened to the reading with the closest attention. At the conclusion of the message the Republicans loudly applauded and there were some hisses on the Democratic side.

WHAT CONGRESS WILL DO.

A Recess Likely to Follow the Coming Veto.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—There is every prospect of an ugly and determined fight in Congress. All the Democratic Representatives have been telegraphed to return immediately. The question, Can the House of Representatives adjourn sine die or take a recess without a quorum, is just now much discussed. The veto of the Supplemental Judicial bill is expected at any moment, and when received will probably soon be called and the future Democratic policy will be determined upon. It is thought that there will be a short recess of Congress in any event.

POLITICAL FIGHT OVER A MAINE OFFICER.

Senator Hamlin's Particular Friend.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Senator Hamlin, who has gone home for the summer, will have to come back again, as the President has made another nomination for Collector at Bangor. About a year ago, when the New York Custom House nominations were disposed of, President Hayes removed Senator Hamlin's old friend, who had been Collector at Bangor for a quarter of a century, and appointed a man who was very offensive to Hamlin. The nomination was rejected unanimously by the Senate, so great was Hamlin's influence. The President waited awhile, and then sent in another nomination. That was also rejected unanimously. Hamlin thought that was a sufficient indication to the President that the Senate did not propose to have his old friend removed, so he went home to Maine. But on Saturday a third time was a nomination sent in, the selection, it is said, being equally offensive to the ancient Senator. It may be said with some confidence that he will also be rejected.

RUMORED PLOT AGAINST QUEEN VICTORIA.

A Warning Letter to the Authorities.

LONDON, June 23.—The government authorities received an anonymous letter on Wednesday, last, warning them that an attempt would be made in Cheshire to upset the railroad train conveying Queen Victoria and the Princess Beatrice from Balmoral to Windsor on Saturday. The railway line was, consequently, guarded by hundreds of constables. The journey, however, was uneventful. The letter was probably intended as a trick.

FATAL ACCIDENT IN A COLLIERY.

Two Men Killed and one Fatally Injured.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Pa., June 21.—W. Savage and L. W. Snyder, machinists, were killed and Jas. Harkin fatally injured by falling down a 300 feet slope of the colliery here this morning by the breaking of a chain.

Executive Session.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The Senate soon after 1 o'clock went into executive session to consider the nomination of Stockett Matthews of Baltimore to the United States Judgeship.

THE DEATH OF PRINCE NAPOLEON.

A ZULU VIEW OF IT.

He came hither to practice his art of killing on us. He had no interest in our quarrel with the English and cared little for the right or wrong involved in it. He held us as wild beasts, good for live targets to practice on. It was necessary for him to learn well the art of killing, for he was to be a ruler of men, and in civilized countries it is held that a great ruler of men must be very skilful in the art of killing men. To make himself a ruler he would not have hesitated to disturb a peaceful country and cause the burning of towns and villages and the killing of many of his own race. We have prevented this, for we have killed the young man who came of his own accord to kill us. Perhaps there will be some in the civilized world to say that, bad as it turns out for the young man, we have done the civilized world a real favor.

TOO MANY CADETS.

WHAT DO YOU THINK? I'LL EDUCATE YOU FOR NOTHING AND GIVE YOU A DRINK.

In the Army bill which has passed is a provision that any cadet who graduates at West Point may receive $750 in cash if he will resign his commission. This is the last surviving relic of the Burnside Army bill and was intended, when it was planned, to reduce the number of officers in the army by one-third, to prevent there being a surplus of subalterns. But as the Burnside bill did not pass, and the number of officers has not been cut down, there is no necessity for offering inducements to cadets to resign. There are now ninety vacancies in the rank of Second Lieutenant. There are only sixty cadets in the class which just graduated, so that if they all refuse this inducement there will be about thirty vacancies yet to be filled with men who have not had a military education. But it is believed many will accept the inducement and resign, when the country will see the anomaly of the Government educating men for its army, then offering inducements for them not to serve, but to have vacancies for men who have no military education. Senators Blaine and Windom tried to have this section stricken out, but the Democrats refused to allow it.

Once when I was returning from Ireland I found myself much annoyed by the reprobate conduct of the captain and mate, who were both sadly given to the scandalous habit of swearing. First the captain swore at the mate, then the mate swore at the captain, then they swore at the wind, when I called to them with a strong voice, for fair play. "Stop! Stop! if you please, gentlemen; let us have fair play; it's my turn now." "At what is it your turn," said the captain. "At swearing," I replied. Well, they waited and waited, until their patience was exhausted, and then wanted me to make haste and take my turn. I told them, however, that I had a right to take my time and swear at my own convenience. The captain replied with a hearty laugh, "Perhaps you don't mean to take your turn." "Pardon me, captain," I answered, "I do, as soon as I can find good of doing so." My friends, I did not hear another oath on the voyage.—[Biography of Rowland Hill.

To the other innumerable attractions held out by the Pemigewasset House, Plymouth, N. H., is added an excellent orchestra. A pleasant house, good things to eat, sweet sounds to tickle one's auricular organ,—what more can be desired?

PERSONALS.

......Theodore Tilton has sailed for Hamburg.

......Prince Pierre Bonaparte, son of Lucien, is lying at the point of death in Versailles.

......His Grace the Duke of Argyll does not propose to lend himself to advertise the fashionable places.

......Dr. Talmage is one of the lions of London, and has already had a thousand engagements to lecture offered to him.

......Mr. Robert Faikner, of Warren county, N. C., is one hundred and five years old, and has voted eighty-one times in consecutive years.

......Mr. Cary B. Moon, the well-known caterer, is lying dangerously ill at his Saratoga Lake House, and his recovery is considered doubtful.

......Minnie Hauk has been engaged by Carl Rosa for next season. She will open in London in the new opera, "Taming of the Shrew."

......Lord Dufferin, England's Ambassador in Russia, is named in the London journals as the probable successor of Lord Lytton in the post of Viceroy of India.

......Ex-Secretary Borie, who has been travelling with General Grant, arrived at his home in Philadelphia yesterday. He says General Grant will probably reach San Francisco about Sept. 10.

......The ex-Empress Eugénie has much improved. She attended mass Sunday morning in the room occupied by the late prince, which was provided with an altar. The Queen was to visit her yesterday. At the Roman Catholic Churches in London prayers were offered for the repose of the Prince's soul.

......The Empress Augusta's recent visit to England is said to have been with a view to composing a quarrel between Queen Victoria and her daughter, the Crown Prince of Germany, but the gossips declare that the mission didn't mend matters, for the Queen started for Balmoral and left the Empress at Windsor Castle.

......Charles Foster, the Republican candidate for Governor of Ohio, is a partner in six different firms at Fostoria, his home. He is a banker, a dealer in general merchandise, in grain and in hardware, and a partner in a spoke factory and in a barrel factory. He employs his capital also in various other ways, aiding in the growth of the town, where he is very popular.

FARM AND GARDEN.

HAYING TIME.—The best farmers will now begin haying in earnest. The weather has been very bad thus far but just now there are signs of improvement. Fields of daises and clover can not be cut too soon.

HOES AND TOOLS.—Dull tools are labor wasters. It is cheaper to use up a whole grindstone in one season, than to work with dull hoes, spades, and other tools. See that dulled tools are ground sharp every evening.

CALVES.—A run in a good piece of grass will greatly help the calves. The more they are pushed, without overdoing it, during the first year's growth, the better the mature animal will be.

PIGS for fall killing, may be forced from the start. A run at grass, a little milk, and regular, steady feeding on bran and meal slops, will help to make a large growth, which is afterwards quickly filled up with fat.

SUMMER FERTILIZING.—The experience of the past few years has often shown it to be useful to give a light dressing of fertilizer to the corn, just before the last cultivation. This helps the last earing, and renders many ears productive that would otherwise be abortive. The fertilizer should be worked in with the cultivator.

CURING HAY in the cock is preferable to sun drying. The sweating and fermentation improve, and prevent heating in the mow or stack. The writer prefers to put up hay, after the dew is off, in moderately large cocks—four feet wide and high—after it has lain spread in the sun for one full day. It may thus stay safely for a week, if necessary, and a hay cap will protect it from a 24 hours rain. The day it is drawn in, a man should start early and throw open the cocks, to get a final airing for two or three hours before it is taken up.

THE CATTLE PLAGUE.—The New York Tribune gives a full history of the cattle plague, known as the pleuro-pneumonia, and of its present prevalence in the United States. It was first brought to this country from England as long ago as 1843 and has never been entirely stamped out since that date. There is none of it now in Massachusetts or indeed north of Connecticut, where there is very little, but it extends from Connecticut to North Carolina in spots and inward 300 miles. Just now the authorities of New York and New Jersey are making strenuous efforts to get rid of it, but in Maryland, Pennsylvania and Virginia no efforts are being made to get rid of so fatal a disease. The danger of it can be appreciated when it is known that the mere taking of a car to the West in which animals having this disease have been shipped is sufficient to infect any animals that may come in contact with it. The wonder is that when so many fine animals have been sold to the West by New York, Pennsylvania, etc., the disease has not reached that section. This remark should serve as a caution to New England stock growers to beware of purchasing in localities where the disease has been discovered.

THE PENNY-A-LINER.

Society journals and writers in magazines are fond of poking weak fun at him in connection with newspaper blunders, sensational paragraphs, and many of the freaks and oddities of journalism. A bit of highly colored description is contemptuously spoken of as a "penny-a-lining;" political gossip and all the unfounded rumors concerning the high personages of the land which find their way into the newspapers, are set down off-hand as the work of the gentleman who is generally described as "the penny-a-liner." However, the penny-a-liner can very well afford to laugh at the witticisms of which he is the subject. His position is too secure and too snug to allow of his troubling himself about such things. And as a matter of fact he is entirely impervious to the darts which the ignorant and the envious level at him from time to time. Why not? His profession is not only honorable and well defined, but lucrative in the extreme. The penny-a-liner is merely a journalist whose work is paid for by the piece. He has no fixed engagement, nor would he dream of binding himself to the service of any one editor. He is the most thoroughly independent man upon the press. Though he could not tell you and does not know who his employer is, he nevertheless has floating engagements with as many as half a dozen papers at once. His copy has priority of acceptance with one paper; for another he does occasional extra work, and he has roving engagements with a third. Among provincial papers he has a connection as a London letter writer, or a reporter of special Parliamentary or other news. He takes odd trips into the country, to the seaside, or the continent, his expenses paid, and a gossiping occasional letter home all that is demanded of him in return. Now he is dining with my Lord Mayor at the Mansion House, now hearing a lecture at the Royal Institution, and now going the round of the picture galleries or spending a social evening at a conversazione of science or art. He lives in a comfortable villa in the suburbs, sends his son to college, and his daughters into society—on 1½d. a line. No wonder that he replies to the jokes of his friends: "You may call me anything you please." Some of the best men on the London newspaper staff are penny-a-liners.—[The University Magazine.

There is a rather serious complication in connection with the will of Thomas H. Powers, the rich quinine manufacturer of Philadelphia. He gave liberally to many churches. He built the largest and finest church that any congregation of the Reformed branch of the Protestant Episcopalean denomination worships in, at the corner of Twenty-second and Chestnut streets, in Philadelphia, and he aided in building every other church building or buying every other church which the denomination owns. When he died, many of his great schemes of building up churches had not been consummated, and the will does not give explicit directions as to his wishes in this respect. Therefore the Church at large finds itself indebted to the estate for more than one hundred thousand dollars, and burdened for the want of several hundred thousand dollars more confidently expected from the same source, and without means to raise the money or to pay what it owes the estate. On the other hand, the executors and trustees find themselves called upon by law to collect this amount and to hold it in trust for Mr. Powers's grandchildren, as directed by the will.

The late Henry Wilberforce, the son of the philanthropist, and the brother-in-law of Cardinal Manning, was, while a very clever man, the most slovenly, untidy and unpractical of mortals. He once engaged to spend a vacation at the country house of a well-known nobleman. The coach was to start at twelve, and at five minutes to twelve he had made no preparation whatever. A friend whom he was detaining with his talk told him he would certainly miss the coach. He at once spread a large blue cloak on the floor, took out all the drawers from a chest, turned out the contents on the cloak one after another, boots, brushes, etc., on the top of them, knotted together the opposite corners of the cloak, ran off and caught the coach, though what my lord's butler or groom of the chambers said to it never was known.

It is said that the Detroit Free Press man stood inside of his office when it was burning and cried: "See how it blazes; my library of favorite authors gone—Dickens! Howitt Burns!"

The Newport Daily News and the Newport Journal.

The Newport Daily News is published every afternoon, (Sundays excepted,) at the News building, 137 Thames street, by Davis & Pitman.

The Newport Journal is published at the same office every Saturday morning, and contains a selection of the best matter in the Daily, including editorial discussions of the topics of the week, literary miscellanies and at least one good story, the latest markets, and a complete and comprehensive summary of the news,—local and general. The Journal is a large, 32 column paper, and contains a large amount of reading matter that is valuable to readers in town or country who desire a good Newport paper, but who do not take a daily from this city.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Daily News, $6 per annum, or 12 cents a week, payable to carrier.

The Newport Journal will be sent to any address in the United States, postage paid, for $2 00 a year. A discount of 50 cents is made when the WHOLE YEAR is paid STRICTLY IN ADVANCE.

These terms are invariable.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary advertisements, $1 a square, for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuance. Ten lines or less, in this type, make a square. Advertisements in reading matter, are charged for, at 50 per cent. extra, and are subject to editorial revision. A discount on these rates is allowed on all advertisements ordered in the daily for one week or longer. Funeral notices 50 cents each. Yearly advertisers are limited to their immediate business and are allowed twenty five changes a year. The circulations of the News and Journal being necessarily distinct, an advertisement inserted in both papers will reach entirely different sets of readers. As further inducement for advertisers to use both the News and Journal, a liberal discount on the combined rates is made.

PRINTING.

Connected with the News is a large and well appointed job printing office. All orders for work in this department will be promptly filled, and at reasonable prices. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

Newport Daily News.

TUESDAY, JUNE 24, 1879.

Murder will out sometimes. See reports from Boston.

The revolution at Hayti is reported ended. The fever is disappearing.

The Rev. Henry B. Riley is to be consecrated today, Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Mexico.

These are now ten inmates of the Newport Hospital some of them very needy and very worthy cases.

The steamer Massachusetts of the New York line, is to go from Providence on an ocean excursion around Block Island on the Fourth of July.

The army worm has appeared in Nova Scotia. It has stripped the woods on two farms and at last accounts was moving towards grain fields.

The address this evening at the First Baptist Church by Miss Frances E. Willard will be a fine affair. She has no equal among the lady speakers of the country.

The veto has a clear ring to it, and it may as well be understood now as ever, that President Hayes will not be driven from the position occupied by his predecessors. He is President of the United States.

The principal topic of political gossip in Massachusetts is Governor Talbot's disinclination to accept a renomination. It is conceded that it would be a calamity to his party if he should persist in a refusal to run this year.—[N. Y. Post.

Housekeepers are complaining bitterly of the unusual number of moth millers intent on serious damage which are seen this season. They do not all become discouraged like the one in the little verses we print today, and; unless killed as they appear, will do great injury. The head of one household offers five cents for each one killed on her premises and it is no unusual thing to see a half dozen persons in a drawing-room all in pursuit of this little trying enemy.

The riot in Chicago was a curious affair. A German Sunday school picnic was set upon by a crowd of roughs, when in self defence the picnickers sent for a company of sharp shooters who drove back the rowdies at the point of the bayonet. Several volleys are said to have been fired, but as very few were killed or even wounded the report must be somewhat overdrawn. A company of sharp shooters could scarcely fire into a crowd at short range without hitting more than are said to have been hurt. The shooters are in jail awaiting developments.

The New Bedford Standard says, the menhaden fishermen on the coast of Maine up to June 20 have not taken a fish for the season, neither have the fish been seen north of Cape Cod this season. It is probable that the fish have passed the Cape wide off shore and will make their appearance well to the eastward, as was the case with the large body of fish last year. A large number of fishing steamers have been cruising off the coast of Maine for the past week or two and as far this way as Cape Ann. The mackerel fishermen are doing very poorly, the few fish they are taking being small and of too poor a quality to bring a price that will pay the expense of catching them. The prospect now is for an unprofitable season's work.

The hackmen are not satisfied with the arrangements at Commercial wharf. The steamboat company have let the choice of stands for carriages to the highest bidders and the authorities require each hackman to stand by his own carriage while soliciting passengers. One of the aggrieved knights of the whip went to Providence yesterday and consulted counsel with an eye to contesting the arrangement. The present method is conducive to quiet when the passengers arrive, and will be appreciated by those who are annoyed by the usual contest at the landing places. We learn that the first choice for a carriage stand brought seventy dollars, the second sixty and so on down to fifty cents. But now if each hackman is at liberty to solicit passengers away from his carriage the choice money will be practically lost.

The proposition is again up to reduce the President's salary which at best is a piece of demagogism. The head of a great nation like ours should receive at least $50,000 a year, which is a mere trifle compared to the sums paid by other nations. Under the Constitution the change cannot be effected if at all before the year 1881. That instrument provides that a President's salary shall not be increased or diminished during his term of office. The object of this provision was to prevent Congress from influencing the President by a threat to cut down his pay or an offer to increase it. The framers of the Constitution never dreamed that members of Congress would in any event refuse to pay him at all. But they have found out a better way to coerce him. They say that unless he signs laws which they pass, whether he approves them or not, his salary shall be stopped as well as other appropriations for the support of the government.

THE LADY MOTH MILLER.

BY MARGERY DEANE.

'Tis a sad song I sing
Of a poor little thing,
And her name it was Lady Moth Miller;
And wherever she went,
And on whatever bent,
There stood ready somebody to kill her.

The first time that she flew
Was to a couch of blue,
And to death did the family will her;
But she made her escape,
Though in pretty bad shape,
This poor, innocent Lady Moth Miller.

"In this nice fur so warm,
I'm sure there's no harm,"
Softly hummed the Lady Moth Miller.
So her nest she did make,
But she got such a shake
That with terror and fright it did fill her.

All the butterflies chase,
And each fly has its place—
There's no peace for a Lady Moth Miller;
So she flew in the light,
'Twas so temptingly bright,
And the cruel, bad flame, it did kill her.

MAGAZINES FOR JULY.

THE NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW for July contains several articles that will be read with great interest. It has the following: Our Success at Paris in 1878; The Revolution in Russia, by a Nihilist, which throws great light upon Russia's internal condition and history; The Public Schools of England, Part II, by Thos. Hughes; Gen. O. O. Howard gives the true story of the Wallowa Campaign, in reply to the romantic falsehoods of Chief Joseph sometime ago. George M. Beard discusses the Psychology of Spiritism, Mrs. H. B. Stowe has an able essay on The Education of the Freeman, in which she sets forth the list of Southern institutions organized for their advantage, and treats of their success, and T. W. Higginson elucidates Modern Essays in his usual learned manner. These able contributions to current literature are all worthy of perusal. D. Appleton & Co., 551 Broadway, New York. For sale in Newport at Clarke's depot.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON for July has in the way of fiction, A Sorrowful Guest, by the author of Deephaven, Miss S. O. Jewett; The Monkey's Story, by Mrs. L. W. Champney, and two chapters of Calvin the Sinner. In One Sunday Morning, Mr. Gardner, the architect, gives expression to some ideas as to the modern Sunday school and church, in the form of a sketch. Sunday School Songs is another article in a similar vein. there are also the following: Max, the sketch of a real life; another of the Miss Help articles, entitled Some of Miss Help's Protégés; Oriental Laws and Courts of Justice, in which are several illustrative sketches: Standbys, Hebrew Women, and contributions from Prof. B. P. Bowne and Arthur Gilman. There are a couple of poems, and the editor talks about The Problem of Revision, Dickinson's English, The Good Old Times, Lessons from the Life of Garrison. Published at Springfield, Mass. For sale at the news rooms.

THE ECLECTIC MAGAZINE for July begins a new volume, and is a good one with which to commence either a yearly or half-yearly subscription. The engraving this month is a likeness of General Albert J. Myer, the Old Probabilities of the Weather Bureau at Washington. The contents of the number are as follows: On the Study of Natural History, by Professor St. George Mivart; A Speech at Eton, by Matthew Arnold; John Brown, A True Story; Sidney Dobell, A Personal Sketch, by Robert Buchanan; On Chinese Fans; Mr. Browning's Dramatic Idylls; A Problem in Human Evolution, by Professor Grant Allen; Mademoiselle de Mersac, a novel, chapters X. to XII.; Spring's Gifts, a poem; Two Impostors of the Eighteenth Century; Peter the Great; Literature and Medicine; Flowers and their Unbidden Guests; The Melancholy of Educated Englishmen, A Coquette; and a biographical sketch of General Albert J. Myer, to accompany the portrait. Published by E. R. Pelton, 25 Bond street, New York, and for sale at the newsrooms.

BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE for June, republished by the Leonard Scott Publishing Company, 41 Barclay street, New York, contains Reata, or What's in a Name, III; Contemporary Literature, VI; French Novels; John Caldigate, conclusion; The Destruction of Szegedine; Personal Notes; The Death of Mayor Wigram Battye; Bank Failures and their Remedies; The Duke of Argyll's Motion; Index to Volume CXXV.

THE PHRENOLOGICAL JOURNAL OF HEALTH opens its sixty-ninth volume with a variety of themes which must please every reader. A sketch and excellent portrait of Dean Stanley first attracts the eye. Then follows articles on Fire-flies, Temperature and Respirativeness; also a poem, The Innocent Sleep. Making a Home, is an article which fathers and mothers generally should read with care. Place is given to Mrs. Lockwood, the Washington lawyer; the portrait certainly indicates a woman of marked intellectual ability. In the Health Department, there are some good suggestions with regard to rest and recreation, under the title of The Philosophy of Reaction. Simple Curvatures of the Spine are described and well illustrated. The departments headed Science and Agriculture, Mentorial, Editorial, etc., appear to be more crowded than usual, and treat of their several themes in a very direct and instructive manner. Published by S. R. Wells & Co., 737 Broadway, New York.

In a letter written in 1867 Mr. Thaddeus Stevens, referring to a public charge that he was an atheist, said: "I have always been a firm believer in the Bible. He is a fool who disbelieves the existence of a God, as you say is charged on me. I also believe in the existance of a hell, for the especial benefit of this slanderer. I have said that I never deny any charges, however gross. I make an exception where my religious belief is brought in question. I make no pretention to piety (the more pity), but I would not be thought to be an infidel. I was raised a Baptist and adhere to their belief."

JULY 4TH FIREWORKS.—A. C. Landers, 101 Thames street, has the agency for Hatfield's premium works. Hatfield has had thirty years' experience in manufacturing fireworks, and his goods are the most reliable in the market.

—Newport builds good streets with the help of the steam roller and crushed stone, and then through the neglect to water them leaves the costly material to be blown away in the shape of dust. It is poor policy to build good roads and then fail to take care of them. And that is just what we are doing in the name of municipal economy.

—On Monday next the annual summer time-table of the Old Colony railroad will take effect. The success of the two lines to New York has been unprecedented, the "Dollar" line being immensely so. On week days the 11.30 A. M. train from Boston will run to Newport, arriving there at 2 P. M., and a train will leave Newport at 10.20 A. M. arriving in Boston at 1.15 P. M. From Vinalhaven it will probably proceed to New Bedford, this port, and New London, occupying some two weeks in the cruise, and returning in time for the regatta of July 9, off Marblehead.

Schooner Village Belle, brought in five, weighing about 900 pounds, and schooner Mary Chapin caught five, weighing 800 pounds. All three vessels sailed again for Block Island.

—Mr. Lawton has on exhibition at his dry goods store an elegant assortment of ornamental shell work of every description which is used for the hair by the ladies and also several baskets made of the same material. They were made at the Bahamas and other West India islands for Mr. Maloney, paymaster's clerk at the Torpedo Station. Every fibre, leaf, etc., is made of various sizes of shells.

—The authorities are looking up the law relative to the preventing of the storekeepers, especially butchers, from delivering goods early Sunday morning. It is rumored that the omnibusses are to be prevented from running. A number of our leading butchers are anxious to have the law tested in regard to the matter and it is therefore thought that an arrest will be made, in order to set all doubt at rest.

—A colored family on Thames street recently sub-let a tenement to an Irish family who, it appears, did not conduct themselves in a very orderly manner. The colored family took the law into their own hands and went into the house and after removing all the windows placed the household effects of the new tenants upon the street, thus effectually getting rid of them without resorting to legal process.

All along the stations of the Northern Division of the Old Colony, the company is placing the same system of signals for the government of the engineers, which are used on its main line. Parlor cars will soon be run over this division, to accommodate through trains between New York and the White Mountains.

The burlesque entitled "Haverley's Mastodon Schooner, Pinafore," with a chorus of our thirty singers. The sale opens at the Opera House box office Thursday morning.

JUSTICE COURT.

At a special Justice Court yesterday, Solomon L. Edwards pleaded guilty before Judge Ward to a complaint for keeping his store on Washington square open on Sunday, and was fined three dollars and costs, which he paid and was discharged.

Edwards is a Sabbatarian in his religious belief and on Friday evenings put up a notice that his store will be closed until the next evening, and on Saturday evening he opens his store and also on Sunday morning, claiming the right to do so. But the Supreme Court of this state has already decided this matter, having ruled that if a man chooses to keep two Sundays in a week he can do so but he cannot expect to keep Saturday for Sunday and then violate the law on the day held by the great majority as Sunday, and yet be clear of the penalty. The theory of the higher law, in this case, will not be received by the courts as a valid excuse or justification of a violation of the statutory enactments in regard to the first day of the week.

James C. Stacy, a licensed liquor seller on William street, was convicted of selling liquor on Sunday, before the justice court today and sentenced to pay a fine of 20 dollars and costs and to be imprisoned in the county jail in Newport for the space of ten days, from which sentence he appealed to the November term of the common pleas with George Denniston as surety in the sum of one hundred dollars.

Emma Knowe and her sister Clara Rivett were arrested last evening by Deputy Sheriff Lake and committed to jail upon three writs of capias issued out of the Supreme Court upon indictments found against them at the recent March term of the court for larceny and receiving stolen goods, and were afterwards held by Dr. Wood appointed by the court to take bail in such cases, for their appearance for trial at the September term of court, as follows:—

Indictment No 1, amount taken $26.15 held in the sum of one hundred dollars each, with Peter Knowe as surety for each:

Indictment No 2, amount taken $34.15, held in the sum of two hundred dollars each, with Peter Knowe as surety for each:

Indictment No 3, amount taken $101.13, held in the sum of five hundred dollars each, with William T. Hall as surety for Clara Rivette and John Donovan as surety for Emma Knowe.

THE MURDER OF MRS. HULL.

The Boston Clue Proves Correct.

CONFESSION OF THE MURDERER.

THE CASE WORKED UP BY A NEWSPAPER MAN.

The murderer of Mrs. Hull, of New York, was arrested in Boston last night. His name is Chastine Cox, a copper-colored negro, who has been employed as a waiter for a year and a half in the neighborhood of the Hull residence in New York city.

This man made his appearance in Boston about a week ago and went into a pawnbroker shop where he disposed of a cameo set of jewelry. About the same time the superintendent of pawnbrokers received from New York a description of the property, and this set was found by the officer in a pawnbroker's shop in this city. The pawnbroker furnished the officers with a description of the party who pawned it. The search, which was then commenced, revealed the fact that the negro Cox, after getting rid of the jewelry, went to New York and remained there two or three days, and in the meantime made some alteration in the character and color of his clothing. Mr. W. R. Balch, a newspaper reporter, obtained a description of this man and yesterday evening, while walking along Shawmut avenue, he observed a colored man in front of him in company with another man, and the appearance of the negro impressed Mr. Balch as very much in accord with the description that had been given by the pawnbroker of the man who pledged the cameos. After a careful observance, Mr. Balch approached and inquired if he could direct him to Bunker Hill street, and the negro responded that he could not, as he was a stranger here from New York. Mr. Balch watched until he saw him enter a colored church and then hastened to inform the police authorities, who sent a detail of officers and made the important arrest.

Cox made no resistance, but went quietly to the police station, where he was searched, and Mrs. Hull's watch was found on him and thoroughly identified. He was not reticent, and said in answer to questions that he had lived for a long time opposite Mrs. Hull's house, and at the time of the robbery he entered through the lower windows and went up stairs to her room. He further said that his purpose was robbery alone, and he did not intend to kill her.

THE STORY OF THE MURDER.

The negro has appeared very calm and indifferent and has talked without much hesitation in giving the details of his crime. He went home on the evening of the night on which Mrs. Hull was murdered, at six o'clock, and remained in the house where he was employed until 10 o'clock, when he went out again. He had a key for the door of the Hull house, but he was unable to make it fit, and consequently he raised the window in the lower story and fastened it up so as to provide for himself an easy means of making his escape from the house. He had a candle with him. On ascending the stairs he heard some one snore, and thought it was a man. He blew the candle out, walked into the room and stepped up to the side of the bed. Mrs. Hull awaking asked, "Who is it?" "The doctor," replied the negro. She put her hand up and touched his face as he was standing close to the bed. The robber threw her hand back so that she could not touch him, at the same time laying his hand heavily over her mouth. He then got hold of the cologne bottle and dashed cologne into the face of the struggling woman, after which he got upon the bed and made a gag of the bed clothing. She was by this time in an exhausted condition, and he tied her in the manner in which she was found the morning after her murder.

Afterwards, Cox relates, he relighted the candle, and holding it close to her face the cologne ignited, which accounts for the singeing of the eyebrows and other burns on the person of the murdered woman. The robbery was then committed, and the robber made his escape soon leaving New York for Boston.

He repeats his statement that he had no other motive than robbery in the assault that he made. The police authorities here do not think there is anything of the reckless bravado about the negro, but on the contrary that he is very cowardly. He is a native of Powhattan county, Virginia, and is about 32 years of age. He has been stopping at No. 12 Grove street while in this city, at the house of a Mrs. Diggs, and it was his intention to go to Providence immediately and endeavor to get a berth as cook on some foreign-bound vessel.

THE STOLEN PROPERTY FOUND.

In addition to the watch which Cox had on him when arrested, and which was immediately identified by the initials, the words "Christmas, 1878," and other marks, he also had the Mosaic ring, ornamented with the figure of a girl, which has been described frequently since the murder.

The person who was walking with the murderer when Mr. Balch was first attracted by his appearance was also a negro, and the two were conversing in an animated tone. When he reached the church, Mr. Balch feeling convinced that he would remain until the services were over, hurried himself to police headquarters, when a telegram was sent for a squad of policemen to repair to the church. Mr. Balch before their arrival, however, sought Detective Wood, and that officer placed his hand on the murderer's shoulder as he came from the church and informed him that he must accompany him to the police station. The squad of policemen followed a short distance in the rear.

The authorities here have been actively on the search among the pawnbroker shops and in other places for any link that would furnish the slightest clue to the great crime. Mr. Balch seemed to have an intuition, when he saw the man, that he was the murderer, and walked past him two or three times, in order to satisfy himself that he was on a good trail. The negro was then clad in different apparel from that described by the pawnbroker to whom he pledged the cameo set of jewelry. Cox was making and but for the absolutely accidental discovery of him in the street would have had a fair chance of carrying out his design. There is nothing to indicate that he had any accomplice or confidant in the crime, but he committed the entire outrage himself. When Mrs. Hull made a motion as if to rise from her bed he threw his weight upon her and forced her down. He is clear and connected in the statements he made, and evidently has a perfectly minute recollection of the events of the night of the murder.

THE NEWSPAPER DETECTIVE.

Mr. Balch is of the staff of the Boston Herald and was the cause of the arrest of E. D. Winslow, who it will be recollected absconded into Europe some time ago.—[Boston Dispatch.

TOO TRUE.—It is generally conceded that there is too much begging done at Newport, and the summer residents are getting somewhat disgusted with the constant appeals which are made to them for aid. Many, very many of the local inhabitants are not slow in approaching the visitors for money for this and that object, and this class of dead beats are a serious injury to the place. The same persons annually visit the summer residents, and claim that they are raising the money for the benefit of the boatmen, &c., and they manage to raise hundreds of dollars from the too confiding strangers. Ministers of all denominations, also, are in the habit of appealing for aid, and they do not seem to realize that their brother ministers also are appealing to the same persons for money.—[N. Y. Herald.

Messrs. Spooner, Mason & Co. have taken the exclusive sale of the concentrated food for Newport and vicinity. These goods are said to be superior to any thing of the kind and have been in the market for three years, and are now in use by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts at the state almshouse at Tewksbury, and by Gov. Talbot at his mills and farm at Billerica, Mass., and by various other prominent men, practical farmers and horsemen. It is a fine article for milk and butter and is fast becoming one of the necessaries of life for the farm yard and stable.

Compare one of Landers's price lists with any you may receive, and you will be convinced that from 15 to 30 per cent. can be saved by buying at home.

Cannot mothers see something far more serious than mere humor in this incident? A five-year old son stood watching his baby brother who was making a great noise over having his face washed. The little fellow at last lost patience, and stamping his tiny foot, said: "You think you have lots of trouble, but you don't know anything about it. Wait till you are big enough to take a lickin', and then you'll see, won't he, mamma?"

At Syracuse, N. Y., Saturday afternoon, Miss Olive C. Holmes, daughter of Judge S. N. Holmes, of Syracuse, and niece of Hon. Allen C. Beach, and Alfred T. Sanford, son of Professor H. H. Sanford of Chicago University, were drowned in Onondaga Lake. They were rowing in a boat and in trying to change places in the boat were capsized. The bodies have not been recovered.

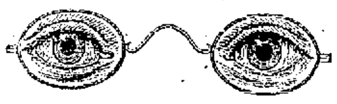
PATENT



PARABOLA SPECTACLES

THE SPECTACLE LENS in common use, termed Double Convex, has but one focus, and that being in its centre, admits of a perfect vision only through its centre. Could the glass be attached to the eye, so as to move with it, or the head be made to turn and accommodate the sight, while the eyes remained fixed, the Double Convex Lens would not be so objectionable, but as neither of these plans could be very well accomplished, an easier method to remedy this important defect in all the hitherto constructed "helps to the defective human vision" is desirable; this end is attained in the Parabola Glasses, which, having not only a central focus, but (for all practical purposes) one throughout, the objection above name is obviated, as they will enable the wearer to perceive objects at every angle of vision, with all the correctness of the natural healthy sight. Those who have made use of both descriptions of glasses, assert that the Parabola are superior in the mild sensation they produce in comparison with the Double Convex, and the ability to use them for a greater length of time, both day and night, without occasioning a sense of weariness or fatigue. This difference, except to weak eyes, is not immediately apparent; but when properly fitted, a short trial only is necessary to convince the wearer of their superiority in every respect.

The above spectacles and eye glasses, in all the usual numbers, are on sale by

BEEF!

—IN—

NEWPORT and VICINITY.

The undersigned have this day opened a wholesale commission house for the sale of

CHICAGO

DRESSED BEEF!

They are located next south of the

OLD COLONY PASSENGER DEPOT,

And have as good facilities for handling their stock as any house in the country.

For the information of those who are not posted, we would say in the first place, the beef is of the best quality, is dressed by experts in the finest manner at the West; is properly cooled off and then hung in a Zimerman's Patent Refrigerator Car, (the best in the world) where the temperature is constantly near the freezing point.

On opening the car after its arrival, having been four or five days on the road, the inside is found covered with masses of frost and the beef is found as bright, firm, and solid as in mid-winter.

It commends itself in quality and healthfulness to every intelligent user of beef in the community.

The dealers in this city and adjoining towns are using it with perfect satisfaction to themselves and their customers.

STEAM
CARPET BEATING!

In connection with the Newport Laundry, we have put in a patent

STEAM CARPET BEATING MACHINE,

by which the Carpets are beaten on the back and brushed on the face. The dust and dirt as fast as beaten out of the fabric, are removed from the compartment where the carpets are beaten, by an exhaust fan, which also removes and carries out of the room any moth or other larva which may be beaten out of the carpet with the dirt and dust, so that there is no possibility of their settling back on the carpet.

Prices for Beating Carpets.

Ingrain and Three-Ply	5 cents per yard.
Brussels and Tapestry	5 cents per yard.
Velvet and Wilton	6 cents per yard.

A special price will be made to parties having 100 yards or more done at one time.

As the machine is under cover, carpets can be beaten in stormy, as well as in pleasant weather.

English and Rag Carpets will be Washed for Six Cents per Square Yard.

Manilla, Hemp or Rope Carpets, thoroughly cleaned for from 8 to 12 cents per yard.

Orders may be sent by mail, directed to the Newport Laundry, given to the driver of the Laundry wagon, or may be left with J. D. Richardson, 212 Thames street, agent for the Newport Laundry.

Carpets called for and returned free of charge for cartage.

ANNUAL VISIT OF THE WELL-KNOWN

In thanking for the very liberal patronage I acquired in seasons past, I can give the assurance that I will do my best to merit a continuance and still further increase of the same.

Very respectfully,
J. ROSENBUSH.

ARTOTYPE!

J. A. WILLIAMS, the original, is ready to take and fill orders for this style of pictures at his room, No. 1 Touro block, Bellevue avenue, Newport, R. I. The Artotype process is good enough to satisfy the most exacting and will for this reason receive opposition from none but those who will have lost all opportunity to benefit by its immense advantage. The Artotypes are far superior to Silver Prints or old style Photo made from the same negative with the additional merit of being as permanent as a steel engraving. Artotype is a name given by the proprietor of a patent for printing by means of a process in fatty inks and in colored inks. The price of photo in silver I will take for about one half of the old process or less than any other Photographer charges for the same style of work. J. A. W. a9
